THE ROCKY POINT CANE LOCOMOTIVE ON SHOW AT THE BEENLEIGH HISTORICAL VILLAGE

The steam locomotive now on show at the Beenleigh Historical Village and Museum is a 0-4-0 locomotive built by John Fowler and Sons Limited of Leeds in the UK. Its serial number is 16249 and the year of manufacture is 1923. It was donated to the Village by Bill and Pat Heck.

This small locomotive spent its working life at the Rocky Point sugar plantation and mill hauling sugar cane in 20-25 wagons from the fields to the Rocky Point Mill. It ended its working life in 1951. From then until it came to the Village in 2013 it had been on display at various locations. See it at the Beenleigh Historical Village which is open every day, 9.00 am to 3.00 pm.

President's Report

Welcome back after your Christmas break. I trust you all had a relaxing Christmas and a happy new year and you are keen to participate in all the RHSQ activities over the next year.

On 10 December 2018, the Society again celebrated Separation Day, the anniversary of the day the proclamation was read from Dr Hobbs' home in Ann Street declaring Queensland a separate colony from New South Wales. We had the pleasure to hear an enlightening lecture by the Honourable Jane Prentice MP. She delivered an interesting and concise history of Separation Day.

The organisation of speakers for our 2020 Cook conferences is continuing. I had the pleasure to receive emails and return phone calls over the holiday period from many distinguished individuals accepting our invitation to deliver papers at one or more of our Cook conferences. These include: The Vice Chancellor of the James Cook University Professor Sandra Harding; Professor Owen Nevin, the Vice Chancellor of the Central Queensland University, Captain John Dickenberg, the captain of the replica of the Endeavour; Dr Peter Ryle an expert on Cooktown history; Bev Shay, the manager of the Cooktown Historical Society Museum and others. We now have a list of excellent speakers.

The programme for 2019 begins in gusto in February. On 13 February, Matthew Wengert will be delivering a lecture on the Spanish Flu, 100 years after the illness raged across the world killing millions. On Saturday 16 February, the Armistice Day conference is being held at the Commissariat Store and on the following Saturday a conference on the history of the Stephens Shire will be held in Annerley. You are all welcome to attend these conferences. Please note that the details of these events are noted elsewhere in this Bulletin.

Please note that a painting by Pam Gough has been gifted by her to the Society. It is now hanging behind the reception desk. Please have a close look at this painting and offer your thanks to Pam for her generosity.

Stephen Sheaffe
President

Queensland News

(Collected by Ruth Kerr from personal Queensland contacts, Affiliated Societies, Newspapers and Department of Environment and Heritage Protection official notifications)

Brisbane Valley Railway Line – The Disused Lockyer Creek Bridge is undergoing a $4.5 million refurbishment and is almost complete. It is an important link in the Brisbane Valley Rail Trail (BVRT) running along the Brisbane Valley rail line. Road Tek is undertaking the work on the bridge opened for rail traffic on 16 June 1884. The contractors for the line from Wulkuraka to Lowood including the Lockyer Creek bridge were O'Rourke and McSharry. The line through to Yarraman was opened on 1 May 1913. The 161 km long BVRT is the longest rail trail. (Railway Digest, November 2018, vol.56 no 11, p. 45; John Kerr, Triumph of Narrow Gauge: a History of Queensland Railways, Brisbane, Boolarong Press, 1990, rev 1998, pp.60-62)

Cunnamulla's historic railway station is to have a major transformation, after funding was granted by the Queensland Government. The Paroo Progress Association advocated the upgrade. (Western Star, 4 December 2018 p. 8)

Gympie – The C17 No.45 steam engine is the subject of negotiations between the Gympie and District Historical Society and the Gympie Regional Council. The locomotive was restored by a team – John Stark, Trevor Stark, Frank Palmer, Tony Van Krevel, Trevor Laird, Greg Stolberg, Clyde Kunst and Jack Ison. Details of the work were published in a booklet, The Return of Steam Locomotive C17 No.45 in 2000, commissioned by the then Gympie Mayor, Joan Dodt. It was then hired by the Mary Valley Heritage Railway to launch the Mary Valley Rattler in 1998. Negotiations are being held over the future of the locomotive which is not being utilised currently. (Gympie Times, 5 January 2019, p. 3 including photograph)

Kilkivan – The town’s World War I and World War II Honour Rolls were restored by International Conservation Services in Sydney under a Queensland government Anzac Centenary Grant. The Kilkivan Veteran’s and Community Men’s Shed undertook the $19,775 grant on behalf of the community. A small event was held in Kilkivan in the first week of November 2018 to reinstall the Honour Rolls in the Public Hall. (Gympie Times 17 November 2018 p. 16)

Mapoon – Cape York – The Mapoon Church is to be rebuilt with $1.65 million of funds from the Western Cape Communities Trust (supported by Rio Tinto Limited). No grant funds were forthcoming from the state or federal governments. Residents of Mapoon Aboriginal Shire have been working for 15 years to secure funding for the rebuilding. It is to be built on the Red Beach site which has been pre-approved by all interested parties. (Cape York News 28 November 2018 p. 6 including photograph of original church)

Ravenshoe – The future of Ravenshoe’s steam train is in doubt. Ravenshoe Railway Company Limited (RRCL) chairman John Kidner informed members at the Annual General Meeting that future train services are unlikely. He said that the future depends on having more volunteers. RRCL currently has 42 members. The group’s Safety Management System has been forwarded to the Office of the National Rail Safety Regulator. ## Queensland Memory State Library of Queensland November 2018

The Queensland Business Leaders Hall of Fame 2018 Fellow, and RHSQ member Dr Hilary Davies is currently researching the Canada Cycle and Motor Agency (Qld) Ltd (CCMA), a leading company in Queensland’s cycling and early motor industry, between 1905 and 1930. Through examining the collections of the State Library of Queensland, Hilary’s project will demonstrate CCMA’s importance in the Queensland business landscape and contribute new knowledge about the motor industry in Queensland during the early twentieth century.

For more information or if you have any memories or a connection to CCMA and would like to contribute, contact Hilary through the State Library or telephone on 3840 7424.

Self Service Digitisation of Selected Records by the Public

The Queensland Office of the National Archives is testing the feasibility of allowing self-service digitisation of selected records by the public in a controlled reading room environment. It is being trialled in the Queensland Reading Room only, from 8 November 2018 to 30 April 2019.

Instructions for participating in this trial and digitising record for personal use

1. Ask the Archives Officer on duty if the file you wish to digitise is suitable for this service. The Archives Officer will allow digitisation of files that are robust enough to handle the process with minimal risk of damage.
2. The Archives Officer on duty will ensure the scanner is ready to operate. If in doubt, ask.
3. Do not change any scanner settings. The scanner is set to the Archives digitisation standards.
4. Digitise each page
  - a. Start at the front file cover.
  - b. Press the green button on the scanner, or click the 'Scan' button on the screen.
  - c. Scan every page, starting from the top page and continuing to the bottom.
  - d. Place the page in the centre of the glass – the scanner will align the image automatically
  - e. Include the back of any page that has information regardless of its significance
  - f. If you make a mistake, just repeat the scan and inform the attendant.
  - g. Once you have finished, return all pages to the file pin.
  - h. It is important that the pages are returned in their original order.
5. If you have any questions, ask the Archives Officer.
6. If you wish to digitise more than one file, inform the Archives Officer. After each file is complete, the Archives Officer will collate the images into a file folder.
7. Once completed, the Archives Officer will download the images to a USB for you to take with you.

The images created you may be processed and loaded to the Archives' RecordSearch database where they can be viewed by the public. The images will be subject to quality assurance before they are loaded. And some files may be rejected.
